NUMB. 1837

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14. 1741.

Saturday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, with the following Declaration of War by the Court of Ruſſia and Sweden.

JOHN III. by the Grace of God Emperor and Sovereign of all the Ruſſias, &c. Be it known by theſe Preſents,

'That tho' the Conduct of 'the Crown of Sweden, ſince 'our Acceſſion to the Imperial 'Throne of all the Ruſſias, as 'alſo during the Reigns of 'their Imperial Majeſties our Predeceſſors of glorious Memory, and particularly the Treaty of perpetual Peace which was concluded betwixt Sweden and Ruſſia in 1721. and the Defenſive Alliance which was afterwards made and confirmed on both Sides in the ſtrongeſt Manner, has been on divers Occaſions very prejudicial to the Empire, and manifeſtly contrary to preceding Treaties; and tho' the Animoſity which that Crown has diſcovered, and the Hoſtilities which it has committed theſe ſeveral Years to our great Prejudice, againſt our Intereſt, and the Good of our Empire, are ſo numerous and ſo grievous, that we could not have expected any Thing more intolerable and vexatious from a declared Enemy, as all the impartial World, which has been witneſs to the Whole, will teſtify; Nevertheleſs we have ſuffered all this patiently, in order to maintain the Treaty of perpetual Peace, and the Peace concluded with Sweden religiouſly and inviolably, and that our Subjects might enjoy the Fruits of the Peace with Tranquillity: And we did this hoping that Sweden being at length ſenſible of our Clemency and conſtant Moderation, would put a Stop to a Conduct ſo oppoſite to the Treaty of Peace, and conſent to the Re-eſtabliſhment of a good Understanding, for the Welfare and Safety of the Subjects of both Dominions. In a word, we have always teſtified a ſincere Deſire for the Maintenance of Peace and Tranquillity; and we have neglected no Means conſiſtent with our Imperial Dignity for avoiding a War diſpleaſing to God, and preventing the Effuſion of innocent Blood.

Nevertheleſs theſe Pacific Views, inſtead of having the deſired Effect, have only ſerved to encourage them to heap Injury upon Injury, and to precipitate the Deſign which it had been forming for a long Time to declare an open and unjuſt War againſt us, while we have heard from Stockholm, that the Crown of Sweden, in violation of the perpetual Peace and Alliance concluded with us, declared War againſt us and our Empire on the twentyfourth of laſt Month, and afterwards cauſed it to be publiſhed at Stockholm, at a Time when its Troops and Fleet were ready to act the Operations of War, tho' it be a Thing unknown in Chriſtendom, and even among the moſt barbarous Nations and Pagan Infidels, who have no Knowledge of the true God, to begin a War, as Sweden hath now done, without firſt notifying the Cauſe of Diſſatisfaction, or at leaſt ſome Grievances, and demanding a Redreſs. For theſe Reaſons, We are ſufficiently obliged by this Infraction of the Peace, and by the Declaration of War which the Crown of Sweden hath made againſt us and our Empire, to uſe our Endeavours for the Security of our Kingdoms and Dominions, and to employ that Power which God hath given us, after having implored his Divine Aſſiſtance, for defending our Empire and our Subjects againſt that perfidious and wicked Enemy with an hoſtile Force.

We have therefore ordered theſe Preſents to be publiſhed, to the end that our faithful Subjects may have Knowledge thereof, and that they may implore the Protection of the Almighty, who is the Fountain of all Good, upon the juſt Arms which we have taken for their Security and Defence againſt the Swedes, that they may obtain a happy Succeſs in our lawful Undertakings; and we place our firm Confidence the more Aſſurance in his Almighty Power, as he is the Avenger of all Injuſtice, he will cauſe our Enemies to fall into the Precipices which they had prepared for us.

Moreover, we enjoin all our Subjects and others who are attach'd to us by their Oath and Duty, to have no Manner of Communication, Commerce, or Correſpondence, by what Name ſoever, with the Subjects of 'the Crown of Sweden from this time; and we command them to guard againſt all Surprize, and Attack 'from the Enemy, as well as againſt their Spies, and 'all other Hoſtilities and Enterprizes, and to fight upon 'every Occaſion for us, our Empire, and Country, 'and to expoſe their Lives for their Defence, as becomes 'loyal Subjects, according to their Oath and Duty, on 'pain of being call'd to a moſt ſevere Account.

'In witneſs hereof we have ordered the preſent Declaration to be publiſhed throughout our whole Empire. Given at Petersburgh, Auguſt 24, 1741. 'Sign'd in the Name of his Imperial Majeſty,

ANNE, Great Ducheſs and Regent of the Empire.

At the ſame time the following Order was publiſhed.

'WHEREAS there is in all Appearance a good 'Number of Swediſh Subjects both in this City 'of Petersburgh and the other Cities of the Ruſſian 'Empire, his Imperial Majeſty, how unjuſt and diſpleaſing ſoever the Infraction of the Peace on the 'part of Sweden may be to God, has ordered, in purſuance of his natural Magnanimity, that the ſaid 'Swediſh Subjects ſhall enjoy his moſt gracious Protection for their Perſons and Effects, till they are able to 'withdraw from hence and the other Places of the Ruſſian Empire to their own Country. In conſequence 'hereof all our Ruſſian Subjects whatſoever, are forbid 'under ſevere Penalties to do any Injury or Damage to 'the ſaid Swediſh Subjects in their Perſons, Goods, or 'Effects, ſo long as they ſtay in this Empire, or on the 'Frontiers of his Imperial Majeſty's Dominions. For 'this purpoſe the ſaid Swediſh Subjects who are at Petersburgh, or other Towns of Ruſſia, are enjoined to 'apply in Perſon forthwith to the Civil Magiſtrates 'thereof, and to declare whether they intend to return to their own Country, or to ſtay longer in this 'Empire.'

Vienna, Sept. 6. N. S. A hundred Workmen are added to thoſe employ'd in the Fortifications of this City; an Army of 30,000 Men is to be form'd in its Neighbourhood, and the Magazines are ſtor'd with all Sorts of Ammunition. The Regency has ordered the Burghers and trading Subjects to forbear all indecent and diſreſpectful Language, not only with regard to the preſent State of Affairs, but alſo to a Perſon diſtinguiſh'd by his Birth and Rank, upon pain of being impriſon'd and ſeverely puniſh'd. The Army which is aſſembling in Bohemia will conſiſt of 30,000 Men before the End of this Month.

P. S. Mr. Robinſon, the Britiſh Plenipotentiary, who has been in Sileſia with new Propoſals from the Queen to the King of Pruſſia, is juſt return'd from this City to Presburgh.

From the Auſtrian Camp near Tyrna in Sileſia, Sept. 1. N. S. Nothing has paſs'd between the Armies for theſe two Days paſt, tho' the Vanguards are very near one another. The Pruſſians have put a Garriſon of 2000 Men into the Town of Nimpſch. The General Neuperg has likewiſe poſted 1000 Men at Franchenſtein. The Weather has been ſurprizingly cold here for ſome Days paſt, conſidering that the Seaſon is not far advanc'd.

Stockholm, Sept. 5. N. S. The Count de Gyllenbourg has written a Letter to the Dutch Miniſter M. Rumpf, wherein he acquaints him, 'That his Swediſh Majeſty 'had always been deſirous of preſerving the Peace of the 'North ever ſince his Acceſſion to the Crown, and that 'he had done every thing for preventing the Diſturbance of the Publick Tranquility: That he hop'd he 'ſhould have attain'd this View, if the Crown of Ruſſia had been moderate and affected with the ſame Diſpoſition: That the King's Patience being worn out, 'his Majeſty could no longer bear thoſe Acts of Injuſtice, which had a Tendency to deſtroy the Honour, 'Dignity and Security of his Crown: That he had no 'other View in taking Arms, and declaring War 'againſt the Czar of Muſcovy, than to ſecure the Tranquillity of his Dominions; and that he was ſtill willing to hearken to any thing that might reſtore the 'Peace and Tranquillity of the North.' The Baron de Gyllenſtierna is to be impriſon'd for Life at Marſtrand; but before he goes thither, he is to be ſet upon a Scaffold, with a Writing on his Breaſt denoting his Offence; which Sentence he is alſo to ſuffer in every Place on the Road.

S.* The French Troops which are aſſembling in Alſace to the Number of 30000 Horſe and Foot, are to march Part of them into Bavaria, and the reſt will incamp about a Week hence near Germenſheim. The Swediſh and Ruſſian Armies are only ten Engliſh Miles diſtant from each other, ſo that an Action is daily expected.

Rome, Aug. 19 The French King has lately obtain'd the Pope's Approbation for erecting the Abbey of St. Claude in France into a Biſhoprick and that the Perſon to ſucceed in it ſhall be nominated in the next Conſiſtory. By Mr. OLDYS.

Alſo his Trial, with ſome Additions; together with a Liſt of Authors cited by him, and a new and more copious Index to the whole Work.

Sir Walter Raleigh's Hiſtory of the World is a Work of ſo vaſt a Compaſs, ſuch endleſs Variety, that no Genius, but one adventurous as his own, durſt have undertaken that great Deſign. I do not apprehend any great Difficulty in collecting and common-placing an Univerſal Hiſtory from the whole Body of Hiſtorians; that is nothing but mechanic Labour. But to digeſt the ſeveral Authors in his Mind, to take in all their Majeſty, Strength, and Beauty, to raiſe the Spirit of meaner Hiſtorians, and to equal all the Excellencies of the beſt, is Sir Walter's peculiar Praiſe. His Style is the moſt perfect, the happieſt, and moſt beautiful of the Age he wrote in, majeſtic, clear and manly; and he appears every-where ſo ſuperior, rather than unequal to his Subject, that the Spirit of Rome and Athens ſeems to be breathed into his Work.

…ſtadt, Sept. 8. The Speech which was made by the Count de Gyllenbourg to the States by the King's Order on the 2d Inſtant, when the Dyet broke up, has been printed and publiſh'd: Amongſt other things, 'tis therein ſaid, 'That his Majeſty with a profound Re- 'ſpect acknowledges the Goodneſs of the Almighty, 'who has been pleas'd to keep up ſo perfect a Union 'among the States, that notwithſtanding the Hopes of 'the contrary with which the Malecontents flattered 'themſelves, and tho' his Majeſty himſelf was appre- 'henſive what might be the Conſequences of a Diviſion 'excited by ſo many Intrigues and in all Appearance ſo 'ſtrongly rooted, the Dyet is nevertheleſs broke up 'with a Concord of which there is ſcarce an Inſtance in 'Hiſtory.

'That his Majeſty aſcribes theſe happy Circumſtances 'to the Reſolution which the States have taken, to 'bear the unjuſt Proceedings of a haughty Neighbour 'no longer; a Reſolution of which all the Powers in 'Europe doubted to the laſt Moment, and in which not 'only the States in general but every Member in parti- 'cular concurred, without the leaſt Oppoſition, and 'which with the Divine Aſſiſtance cannot fail of reſtore- 'ing the Kingdom to its former Luſtre.

'That the King conſiders the Union of his Subjects 'in their Deliberations as the Source of the Subſidies 'which they have granted to facilitate the Execution of 'his Majeſty's juſt Views, and of the Diſpoſitions which 'they have made to augment the Army in a moſt effe- 'ctual Manner, ſo that how numerous ſoever it be at 'preſent it may in a little time be reinforced by good 'Troops well diſciplin'd, and even augmented to dou- 'ble the Number.

'That in the preſent Situation of Affairs, which is 'ſo anſwerable to the King's Views, his Majeſty has 'made no Scruple to acquieſce in the ſubmiſſive Coun- 'ſel of his Subjects, and has even entirely conform'd to 'their Reſolution by taking Arms, in order to procure 'for his Subjects a Peace as glorious, as that which was 'heretofore extorted from the Kingdom was diſhonour- 'able, and ſubject to great Dangers.

'That 'twas with this View his Majeſty, placing his 'entire Confidence in God, declar'd War againſt Ruſ- 'ſia, with a Deſign to puſh it on with Vigour; and 'that knowing full well that Victory is in the Hand of 'the Almighty, he will not ceaſe to invoke him for 'his Bleſſing on his juſt Arms, at the ſame time exhort- 'ing his Subjects to join their Prayers to his.

'That tho' his Majeſty, who has nothing more at 'heart than the Safety of the Kingdom and his Subjects, 'could not give a more convincing Proof of it, than 'by inſiſting upon his Deſign of putting himſelf, not- 'withſtanding his great Age, at the Head of his Army, 'and leading it himſelf againſt the Enemy; he has 'nevertheleſs been pleaſed, notwithſtanding his Incli- 'nation to War, to condeſcend to the ſtrong Inſtances 'made to his Majeſty, not to expoſe his Sacred Perſon. 'That therefore his Majeſty has appointed the preſent 'Marſhal of the Dyet to command his Armies, in ex- 'pectation that he will not only anſwer the Truſt he 'firmly repoſes in him, but alſo that he will, by his 'Example, animate thoſe who ſhall ſerve under him: 'That moreover his Majeſty wiſhes him all manner of 'Succeſs in his Undertakings, as well as to thoſe of his 'Subjects who go from this Aſſembly to fight the Ene- 'mies of his Majeſty and the Kingdom, whom he aſ- 'ſures of his ſpecial Favour, and doubts not but they 'will render themſelves worthy of it by their Conduct 'and Valour, &c.'

LONDON, September 15.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, Sept. 21.

'I am sorry to find that the People at London are so 'suspicious and incredulous, as by your last you seem to 'speak them. It is not to be expected that because a 'Man writes from the Hague he should never be mis-'taken, or that he should be able to furnish you every 'Mail with something very important, and not to be 'found in the Gazettes. I have done my utmost in 'respect to the first, and have seldom transmitted to you 'any thing trivial; and as to the latter, my Advices 'have been generally earlier by a Day at least. I will 'endeavour to keep up to this, that is, to do my best 'for you, which I hope will prove satisfactory; but as 'to the Folks you speak of, I doubt they are deter-'min'd to be pleas'd with nothing, that does not serve 'their Purposes or come thro' their own Canal.

'Letters from Hanover of the 15th inform us, that 'the French Minister M. Bussy speaks in very soft and 'smooth Language there, and is very far from giving 'himself any of those Airs which some People pretended 'to expect he would. His whole Discourse is on the 'pacifick Temper of the Cardinal and the Court of 'France, the Necessity there is of satisfying the De-'mands of some Princes, and of adjusting those Claims 'that might otherwise disturb the Peace of Europe. 'The true Tendency of all this is as well understood at 'that Court as in any other Place in the World, and 'this will appear by the Measures taken by his Britan-'nick Majesty, who is disposed to make use of every 'favourable Opportunity, in order to secure the Quiet 'of Germany, and to render the best Offices he is able 'to his Allies.

'Berlin, Sept. 14. His Majesty's Ministers here do 'not affect to give Credit to what is said of the King's 'having actually rejected all Propositions from the Q. 'of Hungary, they treat it on the contrary as an inju-'rious Calumny, and assert, that his Prussian Majesty 'will quickly demonstrate to all the World, that he 'had nothing less in view than to aggrandize himself 'at the Expence of the House of Austria, as there can 'be nothing farther from his Heart than concurring in 'such Measures as may prove detrimental to the Ger-'man Liberty. Time will shew how far all this may 'be depended upon.

'My Correspondent at Paris, by a Letter dated the '15th instant, informs me, that People of Penetration 'there begin to perceive their Court does not talk in 'altogether so high a Strain as it did lately. The 'mighty Expences they are at, and the many Affairs 'they have upon their Hands, render a War with 'Great Britain, a thing terrible to think of. Of late 'therefore a Report has been spread, that Means will be 'found to make up the Differences between the two 'Courts in an amicable Manner, whereupon the Actions 'are risen very considerably, which shews, that the In-'clinations of the People coincide with the Schemes of 'the Cardinal.

'I have just now receiv'd some extraordinary News 'from Stockholm, but in so imperfect a Manner, that 'I must delay till next Post the sending you an Account 'of it.'

Prince Charles of Lorrain is shortly expected at Brus-sels, with the Character of Governor General of the Austrian Netherlands, the Administration of which is, pro tempore, in the Hands of the Count de Harrach. Mean time, Mons, Aeth, and Charleroy are fortifying in all Haste, and the Garrisons are considerably rein-forc'd.

The King of Sweden has publish'd a Proclamation, dated the 27th of August last, allowing those who are of the Church of England, or Calvinist Doctrine, the Free Exercise of their Religion in his Dominions, with Liberty to build and have their own Churches, in all the Maritime Towns, except Carelscroon.

Letters of the 22d ult. from Rome say, that the Per-son who came thither lately, pretending to be an In-dian Prince, and a-kin to the Great Mogul, and that the only Reason of his coming was to embrace the Ro-man Catholick Religion, and to introduce the Exercise of it into his own Country, under which Pretence he found means to gain Credit from several Persons, is dis-cover'd to be a Fortune-hunter, an Impostor, and has been arrested, and committed to the Castle of St. An-gelo.

'Tis given out both at Versailles and at the Hague, That a Convention of Neutrality for Hanover is sign'd between the Kings of France and Great Britain.

'Tis reported at Ratisbon, that 10,000 Saxons are enter'd into Bohemia.

The Letters from Paris, which are of Wednesday last, mention the Death of M. Rollin, formerly Rector of the University of Paris, Professor of Rhetorick at the Royal College, a Member of the Academy of Inscrip-tions and Belles Lettres, and the celebrated Author of several learned Instructions for the Bar and the Pulpit, as well as other Dissertations Historical and Philosophi-cal, which have been very well received by the Li-terati.

Yesterday Morning James Hall, for the Murder of his Master Mr. Penny, as formerly mention'd, was exe-cuted on the Gallows erected for him in the Strand, and was afterwards carried in a Cart to Beggars Bush near Acton to be gibbeted. There was a vast Concourse of People to see him suffer, and several Persons have re-ceiv'd Hurts by the Crowd, Fall of Scaffolds, &c.

Dover, Sept. 13. Capt. Martin of his Majesty's Ship the Assistance, cruizing off of St. Sebastians, has taken and sent in here a Ship from Greenland called the St. Dominique, about 260 Tuns: They said they were French, and bound to St. Jean de Luz, but had a Spa-nish Captain and 35 Spanish Seamen, and not half so many French, which, with some other Circumstances, we don't doubt but will prove her a good Prize.

Capt. Martin has also taken a rich Spanish Ship, bound from St. Sebastians to Carthagena in New Spain.
